Before copying this handout to students, fill it out and check-off the items you want them to complete. Begin your lesson by having your students work in groups to write down what they remember about this story, then fill in the blanks for them. Have students locate the story in their Bibles. Provide context of where we are in the Bible's story. Discuss how we read this story: that it's more like a Parable than a historical work, an ancient & dramatic story designed to teach truths about God and his expectations of us.

Noah and the Ark CD The Student Handout!

INTRO: Noah and the Great Flood is part of an unfolding theme in Genesis that God will save his children from their sins. But how? The world is a wicked place, and God could easily wipe it out and start over. Why doesn't he? God saved one obedient family with an Ark. Next time, God will save an entire nation from slavery. And eventually, God will save the entire world through Jesus and his cross.
